Charcoal Portable Metal Grill "Y"

The CHEF model Y grill is a product with a practical design and optimal functionality, easy to assemble and even easier to cook. It is the largest model of the "Chef Grill" range, with a generous cooking surface: it has two fixing levels for the grill, depending on the intensity of the heat.

The grill is made of 6 mm steel elements with 15 mm distance between them. The main box is made of 2 mm thick black steel sheet, with decorative and functional cutouts that reproduce in metal the registered elements of the brand: the flame and "Chef" word. The detachable and removable Y-shaped legs, made of rectangular tube, are provided with metal soles for increased stability. It is available in black color (electrostatic fire-resistant paint).

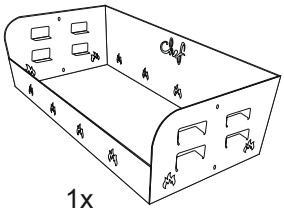

24 months guarantee

CE
complies with EU requirements

The grill comes in a strong cardboard box. All the component elements (removable legs, their fixing screws, mounting sockets, metal handles for handling the grill and the brochure with the assembly instructions / conditions of use / warranty certificate and declaration of conformity) are in the metal box of the grill.

Overall dimensions: 830 x 390 x 960 mm (L x W x H).

Assembly instructions

Turn the grill box GRSY01 upside down so that the removable leg fixing brackets are facing up.

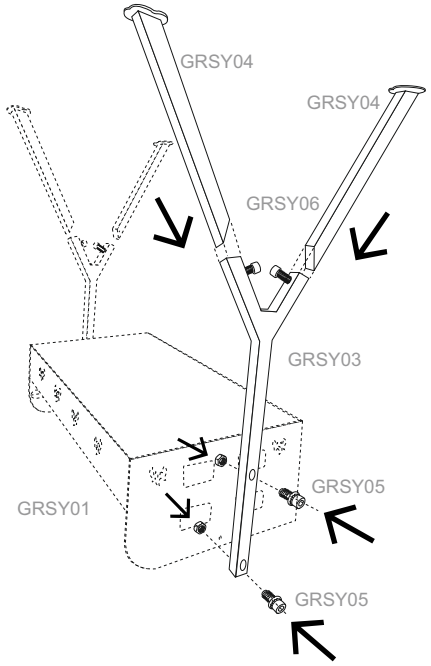

GRSY01

Fit the top of the GRSY03 leg to the side of the grill so that the holes in both marks match. Insert the GRSY05 threaded screw into the holes on the leg and side of the grill and tighten until you are sure that the grill leg is securely fastened. Do the same for both legs. Use the GRSY08 Allen key for efficient tightening. Next, mount the lower legs GRSY04 and fix them with the threaded screws GRSY06 using the allen GRSY07.

Return the grill assembly to its original position and fix the GRSY02 grill on one of the levels with the GRSY09 fixing handles (they are inserted into the grill after the first rod).

Usage conditions

Burn without cooking before first use.

Although it is heat resistant, the paint on the box will melt and peel after firing, but the functionality and strength of the grill will not be affected.

When not in use, it is recommended to cover the grill with a waterproof cover, move it to an area protected from the weather to avoid rusting of the metal box.

Do not let children near the grill. Being a metal assembly and open flame, there is a risk of injury.

Food must be defrosted before cooking on the grill.

Once the fire is lit in the grill box, do not leave it unattended.

Do not use indoors, in enclosed spaces, near fire hazard areas, under tree branches or near flammable substances. It is advisable to use in an area protected from the wind to avoid the spread of fire to other areas.

During the whole process of use, the grill is very hot. Moving it will be done after you make sure it has cooled down.

Do not use the grill if you are under the influence of alcohol.

After use, extinguish the fire with sand, earth or water and allow the grill to cool. Then clean the box of coals and ash.
